

FAY JONES SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE AND DESIGN 2021 DESIGN CAMP FAQ

HOW MUCH DOES DESIGN CAMP COST?

Fayetteville In-person Design Camp: $375.00

Virtual Design Camps (self-guided, school-guided and advanced camps): Free, with the option to purchase a $30 materials kit. This kit includes materials that are typically provided to students during the in-person camps. Students in the advanced design camp are strongly encouraged to purchase a materials kit due to the complexity of projects that will be completed during the camps (if cost is an issue, please reach out to Alannah Massey at faycamp@uark.edu).

ARE SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE?

Yes! The Fay Jones School of Architecture and Design offers a limited number of scholarships. When you register online, check the box to indicate you will be applying for a need-based scholarship. You will need to provide verification of participation in the free/reduced lunch program at your school. If your school does not have this program, please review the income eligibility guidelines to see if you qualify for a scholarship:

WHAT DO STUDENTS DO IN A TYPICAL WEEK OF DESIGN CAMP?

During the week of Design Camp, students will be engaged in hands-on projects, presentations by Fay Jones School faculty and students, tours of local design projects, discussions and visits from local designers, all with the intention of teaching the students about the design professions, which include architecture, landscape architecture and interior design.

Past projects have included designing an outdoor classroom or a café, where the students plan out their design through sketching and model building. Students will also learn terms used by designers and how to observe and record the world around them through notes and sketching activities.

The tours usually occupy one day of camp. In the past, these have included Cooper Memorial Chapel, Crystal Bridges Museum of American Art, Keenan TowerHouse, the University of Arkansas Community Design Center and local architecture and design firms, along with walking tours of the University of Arkansas campus and downtown Fayetteville. This year, the tours will be within walking distance of the University of Arkansas.

During the week of camp, students will also have the opportunity to meet with the School's advisors to learn how they can start preparing themselves in high school for a career in the design professions.

WHAT COVID-19 PRECAUTIONS WILL BE TAKEN FOR IN-PERSON DESIGN CAMP?

The in-person Design Camp will fully comply with all state, local and university guidelines regarding COVID-19. This year, masks will be required at all times during camp (other than while eating or drinking). Masks will be provided if students do not bring their own. The in-person camp will have a limited enrollment to allow for social distancing requirements. The spaces and supplies used during Design Camp will undergo enhanced cleaning protocols.

CAN I PICK MY STUDENT UP EARLY FROM IN-PERSON CAMP ON FRIDAY TO GET A START ON THE WEEKEND?

We strongly encourage you to allow your student to remain at camp for the full day on Friday. Students will present their work at a reception that afternoon.

WHAT SHOULD MY STUDENT BRING TO IN-PERSON DESIGN CAMP?

If your student enrolls in the Fayetteville in-person Design Camp, they should bring a backpack and a water bottle, and they should wear comfortable shoes, as we typically walk a little bit each day of camp. All supplies will be provided. Lunch and snacks will be provided each day. This year, students will need to wear masks at all times during camp (other than while eating or drinking). Masks will be provided if students do not bring their own.

WHAT SUPPLIES DOES MY STUDENT NEED TO COMPLETE VIRTUAL DESIGN CAMP?

The projects in the virtual design camp programs typically can be completed with household supplies, or you can purchase an optional materials kit during registration. You'll need scissors, a ruler, sketching tools (pencils, watercolors, colored pencils, etc.), and building materials (paper, cardboard, fabric, popsicle sticks, yarn or string, wire, aluminum foil, clay, etc.).

WHO TEACHES THE STUDENTS AT IN-PERSON AND SCHOOL-GUIDED DESIGN CAMP?

The students are led by faculty and student teaching assistants from the Fay Jones School of Architecture and Design who are in the Departments of Architecture, Landscape Architecture or Interior Design. We have a ratio of approximately one faculty and one teaching assistant per 15 Design Camp students, and we try to have an even ratio of faculty and teaching assistants from the three departments to give the students exposure to all three disciplines.

HOW DO THE SELF-GUIDED CAMPS WORK?

For the self-guided camps, students will log in to Arkansas PBS Learn and complete each learning module. The log-in information will be provided after students complete the registration for the self-guided camp. Fay Jones School faculty and students developed the content in the modules, and students can complete those lessons at their own pace.

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN DESIGN CAMP AND ADVANCED DESIGN CAMP?

Design Camp is generally for students who are attending for the first time.

Advanced Design Camp is for returning students and/or students who will be a junior or senior and have taken classes in architecture and engineering or worked on design projects through a mentor or other program. If you have questions about whether or not your student should be enrolled in Advanced Design Camp, you can contact us and we can help determine which camp would be most appropriate.

WHAT IF MY STUDENT HAS FOOD ALLERGIES?

Indicate any allergies or dietary restrictions on your registration forms, and please be as specific as possible. Every effort will be made to accommodate your camper's needs.

WHERE DO I DROP OFF AND PICK UP MY CAMPER FOR IN-PERSON DESIGN CAMP?

Check your email for important information and updates. Approximately 10 days before camp starts, you will receive a detailed email with this and other important information. In the meantime, please contact us if your email or phone number changes after you register.
